SEAMAN'S MISSION

The World
comes to the Gospel - and the Gospel goes out to the World.

Report 2

A record breaking day 170 ship workers attend.

Essential gospel literature in many different languages. - A faithful Christian witness. - Many meaningful gospel conversations

It was great to meet Andres. He comes from the same town where I grew up in Brazil and even went to the same junior school.
It was great to chat with him and give some gospel literature.

It was great to meet these two lads from Honduras, Abner and Marlon. They accepted excellent gospel literature, the well known John Blanchard book
'Ultimate Questions'
and a 'Happy are Those' in Spanish.
We made a point of praying with them
and asked God's protection on their lives at sea.

We met Genaro a believer from the Rotterdam ship. He asked if we could arrange a Bible Study with a group from s h i p
during n e x t
visit.

GOSPEL LITERATURE AND GOSPEL CDS - MULTILINGUAL

The lady on the left is one of the volunteers.
Her name is Claudine from Switzerland.
She has been chatting to and showing these young people around the centre.

One interesting and encouraging observation we've made is a comment a number of young people frequently make - that being:

"We have visited many Seaman's Missions all over the world, but have never sensed the Peace and security that we feel when we visit this mission"

I believe that in some special way God has put His seal and presence on this work.
